Art Unit: 3641

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-6, drawn to an oxidizer package, classified in class 102, subclass 283+.
 - II. Claims 7-22, drawn to a solid propellant, classified in class 149, subclass 18+.
 - III. Claims 23-28, drawn to a method, classified in class 149, subclass 19.92.
2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:
3. Inventions III and II are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the product can be made in a different manner, such as casting a liquid mix of binder and oxidizer pellets to form a propellant, without any pre-constructed oxidizer pellet array.
4. Inventions I and III are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the Group I matrix is not the starting material for the Group III method invention as claimed, since the Group III method does not utilize a package.
5. Inventions I and II are unrelated. The Group I package as claimed is not a subcombination of the Group II propellant invention, since there is no packaging material in the solid propellant as claimed. Further, a cured polymer propellant binder is incapable of separation into the starting binder prepolymer and curing agent ingredients.
6. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Art Unit: 3641

7. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

8. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

9. Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect the following single disclosed species for examination purposes, even though this requirement is traversed. The first single species shall be a single example of oxidizer (such as any one of those recited in claim 3), regardless of which of Groups I-III is elected above, and if either of Groups II or III are elected, a second species of a single polymer binder, with each being particularly specified. Further, various arrangements of the oxidizer array, as disclosed in the various figures of the drawings, form a third, mechanical genus of species. Election of one species as in one figure of drawings is required as to this third separate genus. Related search is required in different subclasses of class 149, depending on these details, as to the first two genus's, and in class 102 and other mechanical areas, depending on the third mechanical arrangement genus. Thus this requirement is based upon PTO policy regarding undue breadth, and or Markush terminology, MPEP 809.02(d) and 803.02. Claims 1-28 are generic in some respect, although claims 20 and 21 contain a single species of oxidizer.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).
